ALMA MATER

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay,
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

REFRAIN

Sing, O, sing! Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O, hail! her color's gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

A prayer for her who sheltered us,
A hope no child her name will stain,
A cheer thrice giv'n with hearty voice,
And now the sweet refrain.

Of loyalty are symbols twain,
Her colors, crimson and the gray,
"Dear Indiana Mother Fair,"
The burden of our lay.

Words and Music by
Mrs. Hamlin E. Cogswell

WORTH FIGHTING FOR

We hold that to all freedom-loving people learning, playing, and living under a free-flying flag are the things worth fighting for. Learning freely from the accumulated knowledge of the world; playing fairly in every game; living boldly, courageously meeting every problem of life—these are the bases of our faith. In so declaring, we show our certainty that neither war nor peace, neither failure nor success, neither problems nor complacency can take these things from us.

For this belief, Indiana has sent many of her sons to battle in every part of the globe. To these sons, and to the things they find worth fighting for, we dedicate the Oak of 1943.

Im-

In the teaching profession Dr. LeRoy A. King had a long career culminating in the presidency of Indiana which he assumed in 1939. His activities included the supervising of the Training School at Lock Haven, teaching Education Administration at the University of Pennsylvania and elsewhere, serving as a member of the State Council of Education, and as president of the Education and Child Labor Association. He was also well known in educational circles as a writer on rural schools and financial policies.

In all his work and writings, he held to the belief that "The true purpose of education is to cherish and unfold the seed of immortality already sown within us; to develop to their fullest extent the capacities of every kind with which the God who made us has endowed us."

Memorium

Both students and faculty will long remember Dr. King as an integral part of the Indiana scene, for each of us carries memories of him walking through the corridors of Sutton Hall—guarded always by the faithful Tunney—smiling and nodding to those he met on the campus, appearing unexpectedly at Saturday night parties or dances, greeting commencement guests and Homecoming alumni with that hearty handshake, talking enthusiastically to the coach on the field or floor, clapping loudest of all at our theatrical productions, giving or receiving suggestions at Student Council meetings, entertaining the trustees at luncheon in the college dining room. In all the activities with which he was connected, Dr. King was an unusually vital, interested leader.

LEARNING

We believe that fighting for the right to learn freely from the accumulated knowledge of the world is worthwhile. We believe in education under leaders who present facts without efforts at indoctrination and who encourage individual thought, questioning, and decision. We believe in opportunities for research: scientific, literary, and philosophic. We believe that every student should be offered an opportunity to develop his abilities and to pursue his personal interest. Most firmly of all, we believe that an educated citizenry is essential to a freedom-loving nation.

Our Leader

Dr. Joseph M. Uhler was elected President October 2, 1943, climaxing seventeen years at Indiana. During this time he has been a teacher, Director of Extension, Director of the Elementary Department, and Director of Student Teaching. His experience in all of these positions has given him a grasp of the details necessary to administer the affairs of the College.

He was Chairman of the Regional Wartime Educational Conference held at Indiana in January. He supervised the survey of Indiana's facilities for the War Department.

It has been Dr. Uhler's policy to put forth every effort to better the school academically, culturally, socially, and athletically. His untiring efforts to assist the students at any time have made him a friend to all.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Indiana now has probably close to six hundred former students in the various branches of military service scattered over the entire world. We have the names and addresses of nearly four hundred and are adding new names weekly. To date we have record of four students who have made the supreme sacrifice.

To these men and women we give our utmost esteem and devotion. We hail them as the defenders of the God-given human rights of a Christian and peace-loving people. For the present they must engage in practices toward the enemy which seem cruel, but in the end they are the greatest humanitarians on earth because through their efforts untold generations will reap the blessings of liberty and equality of opportunity. To them we extend our everlasting gratitude.

Dean of Instruction

In June, 1942, Dr. Ralph E. Heiges became Dean of Instruction. His regular duties include the evaluation of credits, planning of assembly programs, supervision of student schedules and departmental organizations. In addition to being Co-ordinator of the Civil Pilot Training Program, he has been in charge of the enlistment of college men in the various reserve corps as well as the organization of the Army and Navy Aviation Cadets stationed here as part of the War Training Service. Under his supervision many new war-training courses have been added to the curriculum.

Message From Dr. Heiges

The times are a challenge to each of us and to this institution. We shall adjust ourselves to every situation that arises.

Teachers will be needed during the war and afterwards. Your training will guarantee you a place of continuing service and an opportunity to help shape the thinking of the better world to come.

Dean of Men and Women

Mr. Walter M. Whitmyre, at Indiana for more than two decades, head of the Department of Social Studies, is also adviser and counselor to the boys, a friend to all. His ready willingness, dependability, and wisdom is deeply appreciated by all those who come in contact with him. Under his supervision the men's lounge has come into being. He has done much toward educational adjustment and war efforts. His most important war job at the present time is that of Chief Air Raid Warden of Indiana County. Mr. Whitmyre has aided the boys in the way of information and interpretation of the regulations of the reserve forces.

Miss Florence B. Kimball, now in her fifth year of service at Indiana in the position of Dean of Women, has approximately a thousand girls under her guidance and counsel. Miss Kimball, ever keeping the interests of the college uppermost, with her never-failing resourcefulness and reliability, has given much of her time and co-operation in fostering war work on the campus. She is also serving as Chief Air Raid Warden of the girls' dormitories. Besides her various activities, including Women's Resident League and Red Cross work, she still finds time to sponsor the new recreation room for the women students of the college.

Administrative Assistants

Mr. William Shuster and his staff handle all college financial matters. In addition he collects, files, and re-issues the ration books of the boarding students and faculty and supervises the funds of all campus organizations except those of the Student Cooperative Association.

Miss Mary L. Esch, an Indiana graduate, and Registrar for many years, is probably the first person a freshman meets at Indiana. Her office receives more mail from prospective students and alumni than does any other. In addition she handles all records except those pertaining to finance.

Mr. Paul Boyts, Director of Personnel, has done much toward keeping Indiana's boys in the armed forces informed about their Alma Mater by sending them personal letters, birthday cards, and the "Penn." His work also includes the supervision of both home and visiting athletic teams, student employment, and general publicity. Mr. Boyts, in addition to his work in the Geography Department, has taught Meteorology to the Aviation Cadets and sponsored the Winter Sports Club.

CLINTON M. FILE

Financial Assistant to the President and the Bursar

Dr. Dorcas Hall, a member of the Social Studies Department, was appointed Assistant Dean of Women in September, 1942. In this capacity she assists Miss Kimball with advisory and publicity work. Miss Hall is a member of the Religious Life Committee and is sponsor of the Red Cross Committee of the Y. W. C. A.

Mr. Ralph B. Beard, Head of the Elementary Department, has acted as Assistant to the Dean of Instruction and as Director of Guidance during the past year. In this capacity Mr. Beard has charge of the advisory system, the admission of new students, tests given to freshmen, and achievement tests given at the close of the sophomore year. Always willing to assist students in handling problems relative to scholastic work, he has proved helpful to them in many ways.

Dr. Clinton M. File, Financial Assistant to the President since 1941, has supervision of all financial activities not directly connected with the state, acting as chairman of the Budget Committee of the Co-operative, heading the Central Treasury, and taking charge of the student bank. In between times he teaches in the Business Education Department.

ART

The Art Department prepares artist-teachers and supervisors for our nation's schools. The curriculum is adjusted and the staff carefully selected to provide cultural as well as technical and creative development.

The Art Club, composed of the art students and interested members of the community, offers a professional program in which students are given the opportunity to develop initiative, responsibility, and leadership.

Exhibitions of the best student work as well as traveling shows of the work of famous artists are presented as a part of the cultural activities of the college. Occasionally the art treasures of the community are placed on display. The acceptance of student work in local and regional exhibits and the high percentage of teacher placements speaks for the superior art training provided at Indiana.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business Education Department trains teachers to supervise or teach commercial subjects in high school. The Department is well equipped with up-to-date efficiency devices of modern business, offering the student an opportunity of gaining a practical knowledge in the use of the time-savers and system units.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has had a very interesting and busy year with the Christmas Party for the children of the Willard Home, the farewell party for the enlisted reserves, and other worthwhile activities.

Departments

HOME ECONOMICS

Aside from the regular extensive curriculum, keyed to the national emergency, the Home Economics Department has promoted many additional services this year. The value of nutrition and war-time meal planning have been greatly emphasized not only in the nutrition class and in the Home Economics Cafeteria, but also in the special Canteen classes. Both students and faculty have conducted special classes in Nutrition and First Aid for persons interested in these fields but not in the department. This year the weekly radio broadcasts have been continued in an effort to inform students, faculty, and the public concerning the latest development in the consumer problems created by food shortages.

The Home Economics Club, in keeping with the department's war-time policy, abandoned many of the usual activities and donated money to the war effort.

MUSIC

The Music Department offers a student an excellent opportunity to achieve a soundly developed musicianship and a broad educational outlook. The Department has presented innumerable programs this year, including many recitals, special assemblies, festival-concerts, and broadcasts. The annual Christmas Nativity Pageant was excellently portrayed.

There have been many changes in the faculty. Miss Helen Prutzman retired; Mr. Charles Davis and Dr. Frank D'Andrea are in the Armed Service; Miss Mary Lowman passed away; Miss Elizabeth Dunlap is on leave of absence; Mr. S. Turner Jones has joined the music staff.

The Music Department at Indiana is making its contribution in furthering the cause of music in this war emergency through faculty participation in National Education Conventions and Institutes on "Music in the War Effort."

EDUCATION

The Education Department furnishes the ground work for the professionalization of the content of other courses. It touches every student in every department, thereby making the college a professional school. The psychology work, the testing programs of the college, and the Psycho-Education Bureau function under this Department. The Laboratory and Demonstration School, the workshop where educational philosophy is put into practice, is closely coordinated, thus establishing the most effective relationship possible.

SUPERVISING TEACHERS

In addition to the Laboratory or Demonstration School at Indiana, the public schools—Thaddeus Stephens, Horace Mann, and the high school—are open for practice teaching. During his senior year the student spends much of his class time under the direction of the supervising teacher. The critic not only directs and encourages the student teacher, but also gives demonstrations for all students in the art of teaching.

and Secondary Education

SECONDARY

The Division of Secondary Education is composed of seven departments: Science, Mathematics, Social Studies, English, Languages, Geography, and Education. These have been coordinated in order to develop a unity of purpose among the students in the various departments. Although its curriculum is designed primarily to prepare students for teaching in junior and senior high schools, every student in the college enrolls in many of its courses. Miss Joy Mahachek is director of the division. The Secondary Education Club, under her sponsorship, has had several social activities. In line with the wartime policy, the pilot training work has been increased and intensified, each department placing special emphasis on the possible contributions of its courses to the war effort.

ELEMENTARY

The elementary curriculum, directed by Mr. Ralph B. Beard, is designed primarily to prepare students for teaching in the kindergarten and in grades one to six. The first two years are largely cultural in content. During the last two years, students have the opportunity for specialization in kindergarten, primary, or intermediate fields.

The elementary club serves to stimulate cultural, social, and professional advancement of its members.

Departments

ENGLISH

Through its courses required of all students, the English Department offers service to the whole college. The new plan by which students of ability may be exempted from certain primary courses in order to take advanced work has been very efficacious. Radio, Speech, Drama, and Journalism are among the new electives of interest offered to students. Any individuals with specific speech difficulties may receive help from a specialist in speech correction.

Seated—Norton, MacDonald, Knowles, Sprouls, Stitt.
Standing—Stobley, Head of Department; Perkins, Jones.

Top—Bieghler, Head of Department.
Bottom—Zink, L. Davis, Head of Department; Boyts.

LANGUAGE

The courses in Spanish and French not only prepare teachers, but also present those languages and the cultures they represent to the non-specialist who wishes to broaden his general education by some immediate contact with them. For the most part, emphasis is placed on Spanish as the language of most of our hemispheric neighbors.

GEOGRAPHY

The Geography Department, which aims to provide specialists in geographic education, has attempted, especially this past year, to train the students for a better international understanding of peoples—a subject so necessary for peace and progress. Also, for the enlarged C. A. A. course, extensive work has been carried out in the ground school. Current events have been followed closely and maps of the military activities have been made by the students.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics for defense has been the theme of the department during the past year. In addition to the regular curriculum taken by the mathematics or science majors, special classes in basic courses have been given for those who intend to join the Armed Forces in the near future. The department is directed by Miss Joy Mahachek.

LIBRARY

The library, in Wilson Hall, provides the college students and faculty with both serious and recreational reading. The newly-decorated entrance room is very attractive; the new desk unit is more convenient for both the students and the librarians. The browsing shelf on the first floor is very popular, providing light and pleasant reading material. The librarians are helping in the war emergency by sponsoring drives for the collection of books to be sent to men in the service.

Top—Schnell, Mahachek, Head of Department, Prugh.
Bottom—Ridenour, Littlefield, Head of Department.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The entire program of the Physical Education Department has been modified to comply with the war needs. Special classes in First Aid, Swimming and Gunnery were conducted to prepare for all emergencies. Emphasis was placed on the Physical Fitness program, resulting in the construction of both an outdoor and an indoor obstacle course. Good health, good fellowship, and good sportsmanship are the ultimate goals.

First Row—Griffith, Miller, Head of Department; Ellenberger.
Second Row—Prugh, Homblen, Snell.

Seated--Brenneman, Smythe, Head of Department, Hitchcock
 Standing—Emmert, Sollberger, Iams, Dimit.
 Seated—Hall, Belden, Wallace.
 Standing—Whitmyre, Head of Department, Johnson

SCIENCE

Science in the war has been emphasized in the classrooms and laboratories by supplementary courses in Meteorology, Navigation, and Aeronautics. Opportunities for practical experimentation were provided in the reorganized laboratories. The classes in physics have been greatly enlarged because of the requisite courses in preparation for military service. Substitutes and formulas for new compounds used in war were subjects of discussion in the chemistry classes.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Knowledge of peoples and their history is the subject of study for majors in the field of social studies. This department serves all students since such a knowledge is necessary for future teachers. In line with current events, discussion in class includes history in the making. Dean Whitmyre is the director of the department.

Meet the Seniors

The size of our Senior section has been increased. Last year an accelerated program which expanded the number of summer school courses was inaugurated. This plan made it possible for some Junior students to advance their ranking with summer work and to graduate in August, 1943. These have been given Senior recognition. Students who completed their work in January as well as those who had planned to graduate this spring, but were called to service, have also been included.

FOUR YEARS OF FELLOWSHIP

Four years ago the Seniors, then the "Frosh" of the school, stood in line in Miss Esch's office waiting to register. At that time, they little knew what was to follow in the next four years. Who were taking the same courses? Who of their number would earn honors? Who would become the class leaders? Who would fall out of the march to graduation? Who would befriend whom? These were some of the many questions in their minds. As each successive year came, other problems arose. As freshmen, they thought they knew a lot, but upon becoming sophomores, they began to realize how little of the knowledge stored at Indiana they had absorbed. When Juniors, they looked forward with perhaps a slight feeling of insecurity to the days of student teaching; after it was over they looked back with pleasant memories and a realization of accomplishment. Also recalled were good programs at the auditorium, fun at the gym, parties at the dorms and cottages, and football games. Senior highlights, the proms, Swing Out, and Commencement will never be forgotten. The most cherished memories will be those of just learning, playing, and living with a grand group of classmates and teachers.

After a very active sophomore year, two hundred forty-two members of the class of 1944 eagerly returned to Indiana to begin their third year, hoping to make it as happy and successful as possible under restraining war conditions. Soon after their arrival, however, many of the boys, including our President and Vice President, left to take places in the Army, Navy, or Marines, and the size of our class grew rapidly smaller.

The class, feeling that they would like to extend their best wishes to those former members who had answered the call to the various branches of our country's service, decided to send as a Christmas gift to each, a year's subscription for the "Readers Digest." The appreciative responses received from the boys made us feel very happy to think that our small contribution had been so gratefully received.

Instead of continuing the established precedent of an annual prom this year, it was decided that in order to cooperate more fully with the war effort, the class would make a donation of fifty dollars to the Red Cross Fund.

We miss greatly the leadership of the boys who left during the past year, but feel that they have gone onto perform a duty far superior to anything they might have done here at Indiana.

First Row—Morlin, Grigsby, Born, Robison, Ogden, Renne, Pegori, Levergood, Addis, A. Hoffmon, Sgriccia, LeViseur, Buck, Sporks, Sleeth, Simpson.

With war and uncertainty facing them, the class of '45 dived deep into work, became serious and responsible, and found they liked it. They lost many of their number to the Army, Navy, and Marines. Of this group, the class president and vice president were missed the most. The rest of the class took it in their stride and continued to work endlessly and untiringly.

Keeping the war and world affairs in mind, the Sophomore Class planned their prom; they tried to be patriotic in every way possible. The dance had to be postponed until January 9, but this did not affect its success. Eddie Kistler and his Orchestra furnished the suave music for dancing, and the decorations consisted solely of red spotlights played on the familiar statuary of Recreation Hall. The patriotic idea was carried out further by using War Stamp corsages. There was a large attendance since this was the last formal dance for the duration.

The Sophomore Class participated in the all-around sports activities of the school—in football, basketball, wrestling, and boxing. The Penn and Oak also boasted of many names of Sophomores on their staffs. The class stood out in scholastic activities as well. All in all, the Sophomore Class this year has lived up to the tradition of the former classes.

Freshmen

The Freshman Class, realizing that they were a large and important group—the Class of 1946—assembled for their first meeting in the college auditorium with Miss Laura M. Remsberg of the Music Department as their sponsor. A committee consisting of two students from each department selected nominees for office on the basis of scholarship, initiative, and responsibility.

On December 3 the class elected officers only to have the group disrupted soon, as many were called into the service. Of course, the freshmen regretted the loss, but at the same time were proud of these men who were answering a far greater call.

The prom, the most important event, was scheduled for February 20, but to accommodate the reserve men leaving that week, the date was changed to February 12. The dance was open to the Navy Cadets training on campus. Swaying palms, soft lights, and Johnny Mac's orchestra furnished a delightful background for one of the most interesting events of the season.

As this year draws to a close the members of the Class of 1946 are no longer considered newcomers. They are a part of Indiana and stand for her ideals.

PLAYING

We believe that fighting for the right to play is worthwhile. We believe that through play we can build bodies clean and strong. We believe that through the discipline of play we can develop a sense of justice that will temper all thinking. We believe that through the sportsmanship of play we can acquire contacts which will give us human understanding. Most firmly of all, we believe with General Douglas MacArthur that "On the fields of friendly strife are sown the seeds which in other years on other fields will bear the fruits of victory."

WOMEN'S VARSITY "I"

Girls who have earned one thousand points by active participation in the W. A. A. are eligible for membership in the Women's Varsity I, an honorary organization. The aim of the club is to maintain ideals in athletic participation and to further the athletic program. Miss Ellenberger and Miss Hamblen are the organization sponsors.

CHEERLEADERS

Come on, Indiana, sock it to 'em! Yea! Indiana, fight! Such yells as these helped to enliven the spirits of our Indiana fans. The six cheerleaders were appointed by the Student Council and coached by Mr. Paul Rishberger. Splendid cooperation shown by the student body made the games more lively and spurred the teams to victories.

With Freshmen destined to hold down many key positions, Indiana's 1942 football outlook was far from bright as some forty hopefuls reported to Head Coach George Miller and his assistant, Robert Timmons. Many of last year's stars were in the service or otherwise aiding the war effort. Weeks of hard work, careful attention to details, and a fine team spirit enabled the Red and Slate to field a potentially strong, though inexperienced, squad.

The first game sent the "rookies" against the veteran Lock Haven combination. Beneath an overcast sky, Dick Hoffman, a new face in the line-up, led the Indians to an early touchdown. The locals were content to settle back and protect their lead. The visitors had other ideas, however, and proceeded to romp over the tiring Millerites for three final-period touchdowns to win decisively, 21-7.

The following Saturday, Slippery Rock S. T. C. invaded Indiana to do battle with the Miller proteges. After struggling near midfield for most of the first quarter, the Indians scored on a break early in the second period as Captain Lee Brant pulled in an enemy pass and romped 47 yards to pay-dirt. Splendid down-field blockings paved the way for the veteran tackle to rack up his first collegiate touchdown. Late in the same period, the Red and Slate opened a sustained drive which covered 62 yards and a touchdown, with Flashy Russ Carlson carrying the mail into victory land. Final score: Indiana, 14; Slippery Rock, 0.

An inspired I. S. T. C. eleven toppled the mighty Waynesburg Yellow-Jackets in the highlight game of the year. In spite of the loss of two first-string guards, via the injury route early in the game, the "Injuns" matched Waynesburg trick for trick. Pre-game underdogs, the locals scored first on a 41 yard march culminated by Frosh fullback Hoffman's touchdown plunge "over the top" of the enemy line. Waynesburg scored on a tricky pass to leave the half-time score at 7-7. After the intermission, the locals got "hot" again as they drove from their 39 to a touchdown which proved to be the game-winning score. Final tally: Indiana, 14; Waynesburg, 7.

Riddled by injuries, the Indiana squad invaded enemy territory for the first time as it journeyed to La-trobe to meet the powerful St. Vincent Bearcats. Lady Luck deserted the Red and Slaters that night as St. Vincent outplayed the locals in every department of the game. The final count showed the Saints on the long end of a 20-0 score.

After a gruelling cross state train ride, the Indians dropped their second night encounter in as many weeks as the West Chester Rams scored a 20-0 win. The Millermen played better ball than the score would indicate, but twenty points is—well, twenty points.

Determined to return to the win column, the Redskins swamped the Clarion Tutors to the tune of

"... and today we're going to win!"

Bench warmers "rarin' to go!"

DICK HOFFMAN
(Fullback)

25-0 in a sea of mud. Indiana took the lead in the first half with nineteen points. Russ Carlson, triple threat star, sparked the Red Slaters with long sweeps while Dick Hoffman made brilliant line plunges. The reserves played the entire last half, scoring once, to make the final score 25-0.

Homecoming brought Mansfield S. T. C. to College Field for the final home game of the year. The home-town forces unleashed a powerful air and ground offensive with Eddie Thull, Russ Carlson, and Dick Hoffman leading the parade. Coach Miller used every man in uniform, and still the lads from Indiana continued to score at will. The final score was 33-0.

The season's finale carried the Redpants squad to Shippensburg, where the Indians tasted sweet revenge for last year's upset as they overwhelmed the Shippers 33-7. Romping Russ Carlson, Indiana's sensational Soph back, had himself another field day as he scored three touchdowns, once on a 69 yard jaunt. Tribute is due the squad's senior co-captains, Lee Brant and Matt Hohn, who played their final game at Shippensburg.

And so another football season takes its place in history. To Coaches Miller and Timmons go congratulations for a successful season. Perhaps the record wasn't the best ever, but for fighting spirit, clean sportsmanship, and courage under fire—Indiana's first wartime football season was THE BEST.

Transportation difficulties added to government rules and regulations caused many changes in the basketball setup. Games were cancelled and some were jockeyed back and forth until dates were finally agreed upon.

The Red Slaters opened the season against Lock Haven and came home without the bacon. The locals led the Havenites for three quarters before relinquishing the lead. The final score, Lock Haven, 40; Indiana, 27.

The next two games showed the Indians splitting even on foreign territory. After defeating California S. T. C. 42-29, the Millermen took the next tussle against Waynesburg on the chin to the tune of 47-37. Highlight of these two contests was the brilliant showing of the reserves, Adam Galie and Dick Everhart.

After a lay-off of four weeks, the locals traveled to Latrobe to meet the Saints. When the smoke of battle had cleared away, the Miller-Woodring combination was out in front 49-31. The coaching staff was credited with uncovering a new star, Joe Shomo, Frosh forward.

In their first home contest, the local lads swamped California 55-32. Joe Shomo and Boyd Stroup paced the winner's attack with fifteen and thirteen points respectively.

Journeying to Pittsburgh to match wits against Pitt, the Indiana quintet returned to Indiana County with their feathers over their eyes. At the final whistle, the scoreboard showed Pitt 65, Indiana 41.

The final two home games showed the Indiana squad splitting two games, trouncing Clarion 46-25, and losing a heartbreaker to Waynesburg. In the Clarion game every man saw action with center Johnny Jones paving the way with thirteen points. The Tippen coached lads were never close. The home forces almost pulled the Waynesburg game out of the bag when a rally fell short by eight points. Joe Shomo again led the Red and Slate, this time with fifteen points. The final tally was Waynesburg, 55; Indiana, 47.

In the final contest of the season, the Indians defeated Clarion 48-41. A Clarion rally in the last quarter fell short when Russ Carlson dropped in four quick buckets.

The Indiana squad won five games and lost four, scoring 392 points against 365.

Last season Indiana's baseball team went to bat with only three experienced players: Mauro, Ruthko, and Hrezo. A top-notch hitter, freshman Russ Carlson became the best catcher we have had in several years of playing. Our shortstop, Gnap, an exceptionally good defensive player, came to us from the City League in Pittsburgh. Our star pitcher, Nick Kish, who was kept out of the lineups of the early games because of a boxing injury, is credited with pitching the three winning games. The team was captained by Johnny Hrezo and coached by Mr. Paul Boyts.

Captain Shuster

With the majority of opponents cancelling matches, the boxing team was forced to alter its program. Only two matches were conducted as scheduled. The first bout was with Western Maryland at Westminster, Maryland. The other match was with Brockway High School in the local gym.

The first meet ended in a decisive victory for the Maryland lads. Captain Steve Shuster was the only Indiana battler who was able to win a bout. His roommate, Russ Carlson, was awarded a draw. The score was Western Maryland 6½, Indiana 1½.

The "Injuns" spanked the Brockway pugilists to the tune of 5-1. Only one bout did not go the entire distance. The outcome of the other five was never in doubt.

Tennis

First Row—Santangelo, O'Hara, Hogg, Shuster
Second Row—Prugh, Litzinger, Peters, Grossman.

With only one letterman left from last year, Indiana's inexperienced tennis team limped through a rather unsuccessful season from the point of view of games won. The team lost to Clarion, Pitt, Shippensburg, Slippery Rock, and California. However, Corporal Norman O'Hara, now in the U. S. Army in Iceland, stated in a recent letter home that it was a "real pleasure to play even if we didn't win."

Since deriving pleasure from it is one of the main purposes in playing a game, the tennis season could be considered successful. The boys who played were Leroy Hogg, last year's letterman; Bruce Caldwell, the only freshman on the team; and the upperclassmen Bob McGrew, Andy Paul, Steve Shuster, Morgan Litzinger, and Norman O'Hara.

Swimming

Competitive swimming has been discontinued, all our time now being given to an instructor's course. Those who took this course are now teaching the pre-induction swimming classes for men of draft age. The classes, given four nights a week, stressed silent swimming, entering water from heights, endurance, swimming in water with burning oil, swimming fully clothed and swimming with a gun. The student instructors were assisted by Miss Griffith and Mr. Gordon, a field man from Washington.

Intramurals

The Intramural program was again sponsored by the Physical Education Department. Although the Men's Intramurals were handicapped by the calling of the ERC and the Army Air Corps Reserve, the Women's Intramural League continued as in previous years.

The first-half champs in the Men's Division was the Phi Sigma Pi quintet. They went through the entire season without a defeat. Runners-up were Jamison Cottage and the Vinton Cottage five.

The best-played contest in the first half was the Jamison-Phi Sig game. Although victors, the Phi Sig's had to put on pressure in the last quarter to eke out a 25-21 victory. The second half was well under way with the Service Reserves in the lead when the ERC was called. This caused the league to disband.

The Steelers, under the direction of Peg Halama, won the Women's Division with five victories against one setback. Next in the standings were the Basketeers with four wins and two losses. The winners were not decided until the final game when the Steelers trounced the Basketeers 33-14. Peg Halama and Sara Yuksic paced the victors with seven buckets apiece. High "man" for the losers was Polman with the grand total of eight points.

Plans are now being drawn up for the reorganization of the Softball Leagues. With the coming of warmer weather, much interest is expected in outdoor activities.

Mr. Stitt raises morale on the home front.

The Winter Sports Club has become a year-round activity. Of its 250 members nearly all took part in at least one of the numerous hikes to the College Lodge where hot dogs or steaks were served.

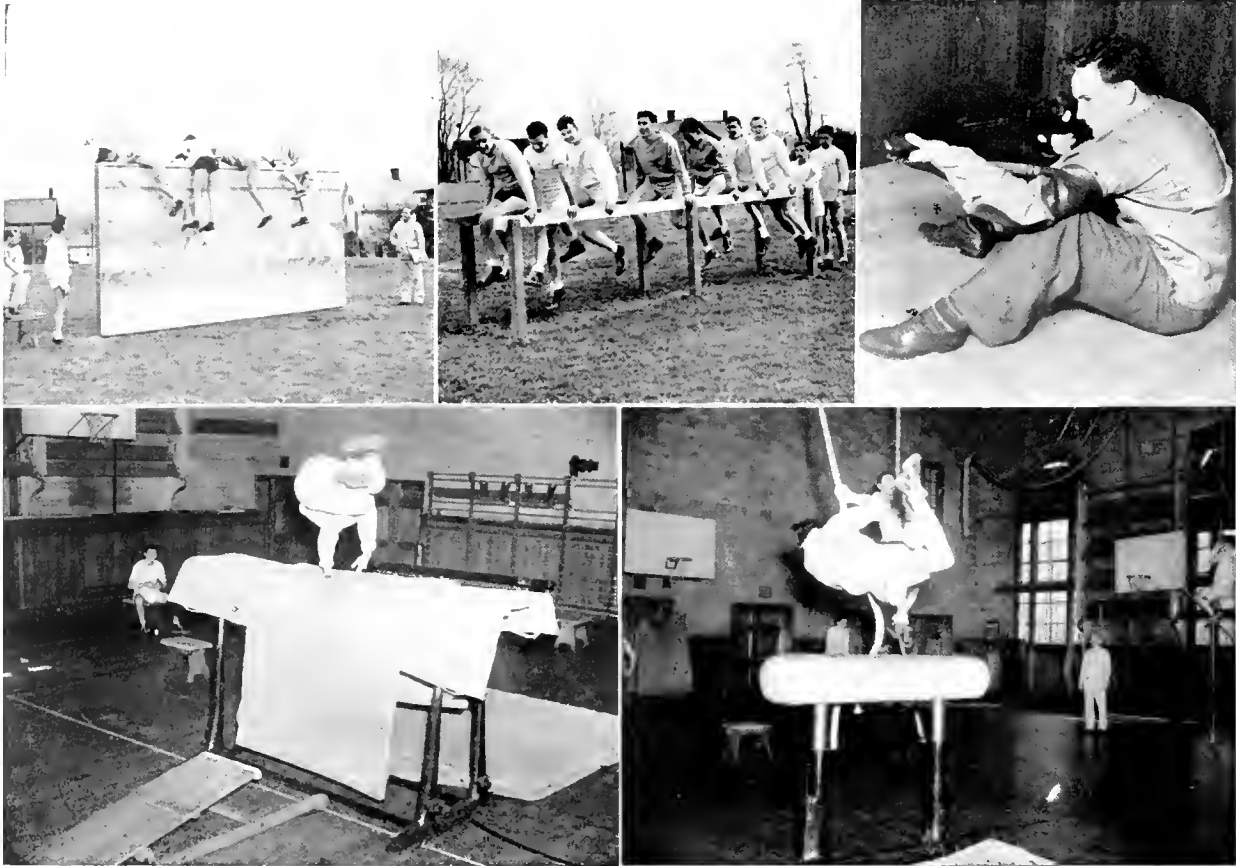

The first outstanding event was the Fall Party in November. One of the activities of the evening was a Treasure Hunt led by Mr. Iams and climaxed by a campfire circle. Prizes ranged from a bar of soap to a case of Pepsi-Cola. Later refreshments were served and there was dancing to Bob Evans' Orchestra.

The major event was the Winter Sports Carnival scheduled for two days but held in one because of the lack of snow. Weather conditions made it necessary to use hay wagons rather than sleighs as originally planned. A steak dinner served at six o'clock was followed by dancing to Sam Bernunzio's Orchestra. At midnight the party ended with the hayride back to the college.

Due to a shortage of gasoline and tires this year, trips to Johnstown and Greensburg skating rinks were discontinued, and the annual trip to Cooks' Forest was also omitted. Mr. Paul Boyts, Mr. Merrill Iams, and Mr. Wilbur Emmert are the club sponsors.

Army and Navy Men

During the past year Indiana has provided theoretical and practical basic training to twenty-six Army and fifty Navy Aviation Cadets. Their dark green uniforms of the War Training Service are a familiar sight on campus. Since most of these men are former college students, they were easily acclimated to Indiana's campus life. Group 43-C of the Navy went so far as to enter a basketball team in the intramural program. They studied Physics, Mathematics, Civil Air Regulations, Navigation, Meteorology, General Service of Aircraft, Radio Code, Military Science and Discipline, Physical Training and Aircraft Identification. In addition, thirty-five hours of flying instruction were obtained at the Hamilton Airport under the supervision of William Strauss and his staff.

Dr. Ralph E. Heiges was the Co-ordinator of this program and Lieutenant Martin of the United States Navy supervised the activities of the two Navy groups shown below. In their spare time the Navy group worked with Mr. Lincoln Miller in the construction of model airplanes for use in Aircraft Identification.

Program

Much emphasis was placed on the physical fitness program. With many boys in some reserve, physical activities were stressed by the administration. An obstacle course was built on the athletic field during the earlier part of the year. At least five to ten boys could be seen going over it at any time of the day. When weather conditions forced the classes indoors, an obstacle course was set up in the gym. Rope climbing and hand-to-hand combat were stressed. In the evenings special swimming lessons were given to boys who could not float or swim 100 yards. These classes were under the direction of Coaches Miller and Prugh.

LIVING

We believe that fighting for the right to live boldly, courageously meeting every problem of life, is worthwhile. We believe that through professional organizations we learn leadership and responsibility. We believe that through social groups we develop associations that make life pleasant, both now and in the future. We believe that through music, art, and drama we keep life well balanced. We believe that in the recognition of beauty, personality, and service we exalt freedom of choice and expression. Most firmly of all, we believe that through well-rounded college living we draw the patterns for effective life.

WHO'S WHO

Twenty-one students have been chosen to represent Indiana State Teachers College in the 1942-43 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. They were chosen by a large student committee on the basis of scholastic ability, extra-curricular activities, leadership, and "future usefulness to business and society." Juniors, Seniors, and graduates were eligible. An autobiography will provide recommendations for the students selected.

ESSAY CONTEST COMMITTEE

Five Indiana organizations, interested directly in the war and student opinion of the war, sponsored an All-Campus Essay Contest on the subject "This Is Worth Fighting For." The organizations interested were the International Relations Club, the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, the Quill Club, the Geography Department, and the Penn Staff. The main purpose of this contest was to stimulate student thinking on America's most vital problems.

B BUSINESS

Student Council

The purpose of the Student Council is to regulate in a democratic way all matters concerning student welfare which do not fall under the jurisdiction of the faculty. The body is composed of four representatives from the Seniors; four from the Juniors; three from the Sophomores; and two from the Freshmen, the class president from each being automatically included. There are also representatives from the Women's Resident and Non-Resident Leagues and from the various departments.

The league has voted upon various matters: orchestra for Saturday night dances; selling the bus; final examination week; buying the new movie projector, and such routine affairs as balancing the budget and revising the constitution.

Usually the president, elected in the spring, remains in office for two semesters, but this year brought a different situation. When Paul Beckley and Robert Dreisbach were called into active service, Alice Faye Whittaker was appointed president and Phyllis Hutchinson, vice president. Isabel Streams is secretary. Meetings are held once every two weeks on Monday evening in the Women Commuters' Lounge. Dean Whitmyre is the sponsor.

RESIDENT WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Resident Women's League, including all boarding women, organized in order to promote socialization of women students, to develop responsibility through student management, and to build greater cooperation with faculty and administration.

It is governed by the League Council, consisting of officers and representatives from various sections of the dormitories, and by the Advisory Board, whose members are chosen according to classes.

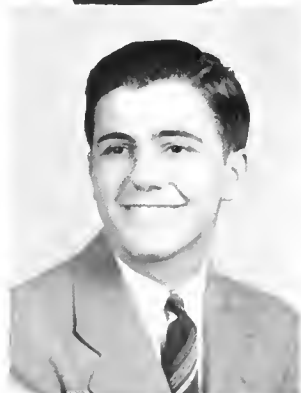

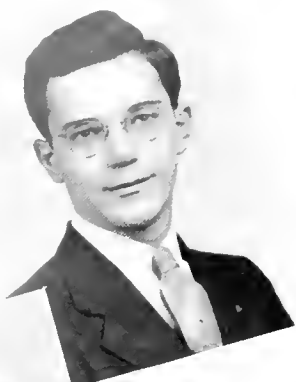

This year, in addition to carrying on the functions of government, the League sponsored freshman customs, the sale of tuberculosis seals, and a sewing project for the Red Cross.

NON-RESIDENT WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Non-Resident Women, about two hundred seventy in number, better known on campus as Day Students, have an organization which meets once a month in its own quarters on the ground floor of John Sutton Hall. A social organization, sponsoring frequent afternoon teas for members and their guests and an outing at the College Lodge each semester, it is one of the most democratic groups on the campus, the girls working out their own problems of living together.

Last fall an interested group of some twenty-five students met with the sponsors and editors to discuss ideas for publishing the 1943 OAK. They decided upon the theme "These Are Worth Fighting For," later arranging the material in three major divisions: Learning, Playing, and Living. A temporary art layout or dummy, submitted to the engraver for estimate, was later revised to meet the allotted funds. Unexpected and unusual difficulties arose due to war-time problems and adjustments. Photographic supplies were rationed; flash bulbs were banned for private use. In a few cases it was necessary to use group pictures from last year's OAK since clubs and activities were disorganized by the draft. Continued bad weather in the early part of the year hindered the taking of outdoor sport shots; frequent and unexpected departures made later ones impossible. Consequently the size of this section was decreased while that on "Men and Women in Uniform" was necessarily increased. Not the least of the problems was the complete shift in staff personnel. In spite of all this an earnest attempt was made to publish a worthwhile and enjoyable yearbook representative of all activities. Emphasis was placed upon a policy favoring no particular group or section. The 1943 edition is not an engraver's publication. Never before have so many students contributed to the production of the OAK.

The Indi

Andrew Paul

Morton C. Grossman

The Indiana Penn, the weekly publication, plays a definite part in the life of the school, currently presenting the college news and acting as a voice for students and organizations. Editorially, the Penn backs those activities which its staff believes are working for Indiana's good, presents fairly controversial subjects in terms of the student and administrative viewpoint, and compares them with the ideals of other colleges. Being a free student press, the Penn at all times attempts to express what the staff believes will benefit the people who make the publication possible.

During the current school year, the paper's activities were highlighted by the publishing of a "Special Edition" announcing the Army Order calling the Enlisted Reserve Corps to active duty. The "Extra" came out scooping all other papers. Other worthwhile projects were the backing of the Red Cross Drive, the publicizing of Stamp and Bond Sales, and the urging of students to take more interest in student government.

Its exchange department traded papers with many universities and colleges; through the cooperation of the Personnel Department, the Penn was distributed weekly to over seven hundred former Indiana students now in Uncle Sam's forces.

In March several delegates from the staff attended the national convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press in New York City. A national honor for Indiana was gained when a Penn editorial written by Morton Grossman, editor, gained publication in the Columbia Press Review, monthly journal of high schools and colleges. For the first time in its history the Penn was awarded recognition, ranking second in the College Press Contest sponsored by Columbia University.

Handbook Committee

The handbook for last year, decorated in a military motif, was dedicated to the boys in the armed forces. It includes facts concerning activities, organizations, athletics, scheduled events, songs, and cheers in addition to general information about the College. This book has literally been used by everybody for just about everything. "It's in the handbook" is a familiar answer to many questions.

Mr. Paul Rischeberger was chairman of the committee. The other faculty members were Mr. Thomas, Miss Wilkey, and Mr. Woodring; the student members were Richard Diehl, Louise Brant, Rhoda Hunter, John Hrezo, Barbara Rifenburg, and Harold Caylor.

Football Program Committee

Through the cooperation of the local town merchants, the Men's Varsity "I" Club has annually published a lively and colorful football program for each home game. This booklet contains thirty-six pages of pictures, weekly sports dope, odds on the game, interesting player anecdotes, complete roster, and starting line-ups. In charge of getting ads as well as covering the dope and getting the book printed were Editor Morton Grossman and Assistant Editor Fred Ruthko.

Departmental Organizations

MUSIC EDUCATORS CLUB

The Music Educators Club, to which all students in the Music Department belong, has had a year of accomplishment. Although the regular monthly meeting was for members of the club only, many of the programs were open to the entire student body. Among these general activities were class recitals and the series of radio broadcasts entitled "What We Are Fighting For." Through its program of business meetings, public service, and social life, the club aims to provide opportunities for leadership, responsibility, community interest, and social poise, all of which are qualities as essential to a music educator as is proficiency in his field.

SECONDARY EDUCATION CLUB

The Secondary Education Club, organized for the purpose of acquainting the students with each other and with the general problems of the field, is open to all students and faculty of the department. Under the leadership of Miss Joy Mahachek, sponsor, and Paul Deane, president, the club had an unusually active year. Beginning with an outing at the college lodge and closing with another outing in the spring, the club also sponsored departmental meetings held regularly in the cafeteria in Leonard Hall. Through its social and professional programs, the organization has given the department increased recognition as a vital educational force both on the campus and in the field.

ART

The Art Club is an organization for art majors and others interested in the field. When Harold Brenneman, the former president, left for the armed forces he was succeeded by Nizza Schreiner.

The opening event, at which time the Freshmen were initiated, was held at the college lodge in the form of a Hallowe'en Party. The club sponsored interesting exhibitions often accompanied by teas. At one of these Mr. Lawry, still going strong at the age of eighty-two, was guest artist. Educational events throughout the year included talks and movies by Miss Rankin, Dr. Hitchcock, and Mr. Kipp. The year ended with the Theatre Arts class producing a show of lively puppets, the Costume Design class sponsoring a rare and unusual fashion review, and a grand finale with original costumes—the gala artists' ball.

ELEMENTARY

The Elementary Club, the oldest departmental organization on the campus, has functioned very successfully this year. Its goals were attained through the various professional meetings, with guest speakers and special student programs featured.

In the field of service, it has been the custom each year for the club to sponsor some project which will benefit the whole college. This year a reel depicting the activities of the Elementary student was presented to the Film Library.

Feeling that a well rounded personality is developed through social activity, the club held several parties, a tea dance, and a Spring outing. The activities of this group are directed by the sponsor, Miss Lillian McLean; the president, Edythe Weaver; and the Advisory Council, made up of representatives of each class.

HOME ECONOMICS

The purpose of the Home Economics Club is to offer opportunity for the development of professional and social relationships among the home economics students. It gives training in leadership and develops responsibility, dependability, and cooperation. At the regular meetings of the Club, interesting programs are presented. The contributions in social service have been knitting and sewing for the Red Cross and distributing Christmas baskets. Notable social occasions of the year were the Welcome Party for the Freshmen at the College Lodge, the Hallowe'en Party at the gymnasium, the Winter Frolic at the Lodge, the annual Merry-Go Party and Dance, and the May Day Breakfast. An outstanding project carried on this year was a catering service sponsored and managed by the Club members.

JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, including all students in the Business Education Division, began the school year with the annual Fall Get-Together at the College Lodge. The Club sponsored professional meetings, one during which Earl P. Strong, Business Education Specialist in the Office of Education, Washington, discussed the present needs in the field; a Christmas Party for the children from the Willard Home, followed by a dance and refreshments; and a successful afternoon Farewell Dance in honor of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps and Army Air Corps. Another professional meeting was devoted to the student teachers and their teaching experiences. The final social function of the year was the annual Spring Party bidding the Seniors farewell.

Betty Branthoover, Constance Bault, Dorothy Salvatora, Sylvia Demopulos, and Robert Dreisbach were appointed as a special executive committee. They aided in planning departmental events, in the improving of the department by opening a club office, in erecting a bulletin board, in setting up a student mail box system, and in presenting a sink for use in the machines room.

Intercollegiate Conference on Government

The purpose of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government at Indiana is the study of parliamentary procedure and the application to situations pertaining to model legislative action. Robert's Rules of Order was used as the text. Discussion of the various theories of government was also part of the program, with the purpose of giving the members a background for the practical application of what they had learned. At the end of the semester a rigid test on parliamentary law was taken.

In other years representatives from all the larger colleges in the state met in Harrisburg to study current problems. Due to war-time restrictions, the annual conference was cancelled and the local group devoted the rest of the year to the study of a model state constitution, discussing its construction, and suggesting ways to improve state government.

The organization is open to all the students of the college who are interested in legislative problems and who have a high C average. Bi-monthly meetings are held during the first semester; weekly meetings are inaugurated with the new semester and continue until the end of the year. Mr. C. M. Johnson of the Social Studies Department is the faculty sponsor.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club, organized under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, is a non-partisan group which gives interested students an opportunity to discuss and understand world problems.

This year the larger theme was Problems of American Democracy and Problems of World Peace Planning. Meetings were held bi-monthly; one a closed meeting and the other an open forum. In the open forum the Negro Problem was discussed by Charlotte Moorehead and Dora Worbs. The Labor Problem was discussed by Albert Mauro and Robert Reynolds. The Problems of Democracy in India were presented by Esther Kahler and James Penney. A discussion of Peace Plans for the Far East was led by Mary Jane Camp. The Culbertson Peace Plan was set forth by Rita Moran and Dominic Ross.

The programs for the closed meetings were on similar topics. The book, "Problems of Lasting Peace," by Herbert Hoover and Hugh Gibson, was reviewed by John Benson. "Victory Through Air Power," by Major Alexander P. deSeversky, was discussed by William Cornell. Liza Polman told of her experiences in Austria before coming to America in 1939. Vivian Kenepp reviewed A Democratic Manifesto, by Emery Reeves. The noted negro lecturer, Maurico Moss, of the Urban League in Pittsburgh, spoke on The Racial Problem. Lon Bond, Patty Shaw, James Penney, and Sylvia Demopulos also reported on the meetings they attended at the Middle Atlantic I. R. C. Conferences at Princeton University. These delegates were sent as representatives of Indiana through the aid of the Student Co-operative Association.

Religious Organizations

LUTHERAN CLUB

The Lutheran Club with an enrollment of 104 students and an active membership of 40, was organized to foster the religious and social growth of Lutheran students. It meets every Sabbath morning with Miss Aagot Borge, sponsor. During the year a "get-together" party, a Hallowe'en party, a Christmas tea, and an "all fun" party were held.

ERSKINE CLUB

The Erskine Club of the United Presbyterian Church was organized four years ago to give the students of the college a closer relationship with Christian life in Indiana, both town and campus. The club, co-sponsored by Mr. Stoner and Mr. Drumheller, meets as a regular class each Sunday morning.

METHODIST CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Miss Lola Beeler, the Methodist Club continued actively during its fourth year. The year's program included an attendance contest and several parties. During Spiritual Enrichment Week, Mrs. Katharine Kelly talked with club members on the subject "Praise, Poise, and Power."

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club, sponsored by Miss Leola T. Hayes, has as its purpose greater activity and more lasting friendships. Besides the monthly meetings, the club had a Thanksgiving Communion Breakfast, a Christmas party, a bowling party, a Farewell Breakfast for members entering the service, the spring dinner-dance, and a May Communion Breakfast.

Y. W. C. A.

"Growing Spiritually," the theme of the YWCA this year, was developed in its monthly meetings and activities.

After the Big and Little Sister Party and the Joint Cabinet Retreat at the Lions Club Health Camp in the fall, the program was in full swing. The traditional candlelight service, the pageant of the "Burning Altar," Thanksgiving morning Watch-Service, and the White Gift Service at Christmas Time were some of the outstanding events in the first semester.

During the second semester a Tea Dance as well as the regular Friday afternoon Teas entertained the members. "Building Enduring Foundations" was the theme which carried through the Spiritual Enrichment Week, February 22-28, sponsored by the Student Council, and planned in cooperation with the YMCA. A successful sale of war bonds and stamps, sending of delegates to conferences, Spring Cabinet Retreat, and the installation of officers closed a busy year for the YWCA.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association sponsored a welcoming and get-together party, a week-end retreat for the freshmen and upperclassmen, and several activity nights held in the gymnasium. Bi-monthly meetings were held with a variety of programs including professional talks, book reviews, and business meetings. The most important event of the year was the Spiritual Enrichment Week observed by the student body of the college.

The program of the "Y" was interrupted many times by the induction of members into the armed forces. Over fifty have left, including many of the officers.

Honorary Fraternities

ALPHA OMEGA

The Alpha Omega Geographers, an honorary fraternity, was founded in 1927 by Mrs. Erna Grassmunk Gilland for the purpose of furthering professional and social contacts in the field of geography. Each candidate for membership must be a declared geography major or minor with at least nine hours in this field, and a "B" average in geography.

At the first meeting this fall, an outing at the Lodge, Dr. Dorcas Hall, Assistant Dean of Women, spoke on India. At later meetings, Mr. L. C. Davis and Mr. W. Emmert showed motion pictures; a demonstration lesson was presented by Mrs. Marie Graham, and the pledges spoke of their experiences in teaching geography. Other activities included in the year's program were a dinner held at Thompson's Tea Room and a demonstration of a workshop in geography, directed by Miss Thelma Waddle and Mrs. Linnie James of Pittsburgh. For the program at the dinner, Mr. McKelvey, teacher of pre-flight aeronautics at the local high school, spoke on aviation.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Beta Gamma Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary society in education, was established at Indiana May 19, 1928. The society, incorporated as a national organization in 1911 at the University of Illinois, encourages high standards in preparation for teaching, inviting to its membership students who exhibit worthy educational ideals and sound scholarship.

The purpose of the monthly meetings is to stimulate thought and conversation on educational lines. The meetings of the year 1942-43 have fulfilled that purpose admirably. Dr. Dorcas Hall spoke to the group on education in India where she had taught for several years. Dr. Ralph E. Heiges described in detail the pitfalls to be encountered in acquiring a Ph.D. but encouraged members of the group, as individuals interested in education as a profession, to try for the degree. Mr. Paul Smay, who was a member of the faculty of the Altoona High School during the eight-year experiment, graphically described the difficulties and pleasures of teaching superior students. Other meetings featured student-led discussion of the role of education in the present world, with emphasis on the fact that it can be used to further the ends of a totalitarian state as well as those of a democracy.

Twenty-nine were initiated into membership on December 9, 1942. This number represents approximately the upper 7% of the junior and senior class of all departments of the college. Scholarship ratings were unusually high this year, possibly indicating that the war is stimulating the student with ability to put forth his best efforts to prepare for serving the nation. At a spring dinner meeting, an additional ten members were taken into the organization, making a total of forty students who have shown exceptional ability.

As its contribution to the war effort, Kappa Delta Pi bought a war bond. It has been keeping members who are in the armed services informed about the activities of the organization.

The Tau Chapter of Kappa Omicron Phi, a national honorary and professional Home Economics sorority, opened its activities on September 28 with an outing at the college lodge for four pledges and the Department faculty. The installation of officers and the initiation of the four pledges took place later in the fall. A formal Founders Day banquet, December 11, closed the social program of the first semester.

Professional meetings, contributed to by faculty, students, and outside speakers, were held regularly. The catering service, offered to both college and community groups, was one of the most valuable of the sorority's activities.

GAMMA RHO TAU

Gamma Rho Tau, a national honorary and professional business education fraternity for men, includes prospective teachers who have completed at least one-half of a four-year course as well as teachers in this field. Membership implies distinct teaching ability evidenced by high scholastic standing, commendable personal and social qualities, and professional attitude.

Gamma Rho Tau brings together men engaged in teaching and in business to discuss their problems with ease and thoroughness in a fraternal spirit. The democratic ideal in education is emphasized and a spirit of research is encouraged.

Beta chapter was organized on the Indiana campus on January 4, 1929. The following schools also have chapters: Syracuse University, University of Southern California, University of Washington.

PI OMEGA PI

Pi Omega Pi is a national honorary and professional business education fraternity whose purpose is to encourage, promote, extend, and create interest and scholarship in commerce, aid in civic betterment in colleges, encourage and foster high ethical standards in business and professional life, and teach the ideal of service as the basis of all worthy enterprises. Kappa chapter was established at Indiana in 1929.

Pi Omega Pi's activities began with initiation services for thirteen juniors. In November the members of Pi Omega Pi and Gamma Rho Tau met at Rustic Lodge for their annual banquet. Ex-senator C. Gilbert Wolfenden was the guest speaker. A Thanksgiving theme was carried out in table decorations and in the menu.

January 18 Pi Omega Pi admitted seven new pledges to its circle.

The fraternity's publication, Kappa Kapers, was distributed to members of Pi Omega Pi and to fifty chapters throughout the United States. The National Association of Duplicated Papers, Danville, Indiana, awarded a certificate of merit to the organization for superior attainment in duplicated work.

The culminating activity of the year was an outing held at the school lodge.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA

We are the sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha. We wear the four-sided shield of black enamel set with pearls that pledges us to make the best of ourselves, our ideals, our talents, our ambitions, and our personalities. It is our privilege to share in a nation-wide sorority—a social professional group founded at Farmville, Virginia, in 1901. Alpha Gamma, the local chapter, was the third to be established. In the eleven years since its reinstatement in the national, it has been particularly active.

As we entered our season of activity this year, we had one thought in mind, "First must come victory." Our expenses were cut to a minimum for every event scheduled. To start the economy program, our usual Founder's Day banquet was celebrated in the form of a Solomon Grundy Party, held at the Activities Cottage, with alumni and patronesses as our special guests.

Our next activity was an initiation service. Entering then into the rushing season, we entertained many freshmen at an informal party at the school lodge.

Pan-Hellenic-Interfraternity dance, the annual Christmas party at the home of Miss Ethel Belden, and week-end "get-togethers" opened the Christmas season. The new year brought with it many informal events such as theatre parties, breakfast hikes, and bowling parties.

A "Sky Ride" in the mezzanine of the auditorium entertained the freshmen who were guests at our formal rush party.

Pledging services, a Mother's Day luncheon, and a "Farewell to Seniors" ended our busy year.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

The opening of the school year 1942-43 uncovered the forecast of a repetition of World War No. I on the College front, in that Greek organizations were on the decline. This year, for the Taus, has been very successful and has proven this prediction, as far as social sororities are concerned, to be faulty.

Delta chapter held its annual Founder's Day Banquet at a local tea room on November 4 and the chapter scholarship ring was awarded. Later in the month, on an early morning hike the girls enjoyed a bacon and egg breakfast at Rustic Lodge. Mrs. Casslander's house was the next scene of activity with cherry pie and ice cream (not rationed then) served to four new members and all the older ones. Then followed the spooky Hallowe'en party at Glady Bee's, a card party at the home of Frannie Nantais, our district president, and a Friday-night party at the home of Becky Orange.

Our informal party for the freshmen and transfer girls was a replica of an 1890 "Bowery Inn." The invitations were huge cards for the girls to wear as lapel pins.

In the midst of all this activity, we still tried to be war-minded. The Taus made a huge service flag to be hung in the new auditorium. There was a star for each man from the College who is in the service. It is a large project, but even at that, it seems too little to be doing to honor our boys.

Our formal party, Chinese in style, was held in the Mezzanine of the new auditorium. Chinese vases, a musical gong, masks, and incense helped to make the oriental atmosphere.

Silence period followed the party in three days and we spent many anxious hours wondering—who? Pledging night came and peace and happiness were once more restored to us. Pledge duties, poems, and black marks filled up the calendar for several weeks.

The senior picnic and the Mother's Day Tea were the events to finish off another successful year for Alpha Sigma Tau.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON

September found Beta chapter back in full swing, with thirty girls ready to go places and do things. As usual, activities started with a get-together in the form of a picnic at the home of Dr. Perkins. Plans for Red Cross work, plans for contributions to the SHIELD, plans for pictures for the Scrap Book, plans for special programs and reports from Conclave were only a few of the things discussed. Joy at finding our Ambulance Robe picture in the SHIELD was as nothing to the reactions upon finding it in the October issue of Banta's GREEK EXCHANGE.

The Founder's Day Banquet, held the night before Homecoming, proved a joyous occasion with many Alumnae returning, and with patronesses and pledges joining in fun and in serious planning for the year. The most delightful program of the fall was the talk on the timely topic "Civilian Defense" given by Mrs. Clinton File. At this time the Theta Sigs were guests of the Delts.

Since the National group was buying an ambulance, Beta chapter not only planned to meet her quota but add a bit more. Penny banks were in order and prizes offered for the most original way of saving or earning money.

December brought the usual Christmas activities climaxed by a White Elephant party given by the sponsors at the home of Dr. Perkins. The Interfraternity-Panhellenic Dance, although an innovation, proved quite successful. The biggest real job—accompanied by loads of fun and food—was helping with Tuberculosis Seals at the home of our patronesses.

The Informal Rush Party in the gym—temporarily transformed into a USO canteen—was an evening of fun and frolic topped off with the call of "Come and get it."

At the beginning of the new semester things happened so fast it was difficult to check up. As usual, Mrs. Kanable served cherry pie on Washington's birthday. Billie Bright made the Who's Who and Maira Wright and Gene Thompson made the Dean's list. Delts sewed industriously on hospital slippers in season and out under the direction of Emogene Whitacre, Red Cross chairman. The Formal Rush Party proved to be a formal opening of the Chez Night Club held in the mezzanine of the Auditorium. Pledging was followed by the ever amusing pledge duties.

The year closed with two time-honored activities: the Mother's Day Tea on the afternoon of swing out and a farewell breakfast to the seniors at which time the Recognition pins were presented.

PI KAPPA SIGMA

In 1894, Georgia Fox Brown founded an organization at Ypsilanti, Michigan, which later became Pi Kappa Sigma, the oldest of the Association of Education Sororities. Zeta chapter was active until 1919 when all sororities were abolished from our campus. In 1930, Zeta was re-organized and since has successfully maintained its place in the national body.

This was an especially busy season for the Pi Kaps. From the first meeting in September, until the end of the year, they crammed early morning breakfasts, hikes, bowling parties, teas, dinners, informal parties and general fun into an already filled calendar of professional meetings. Highlighting the year was a visit from Mrs. Donald Stark, national District Representative, for whom Miss Mary Hart, our sponsor, entertained at a tea in her apartment. Other festivities that coincided with Mrs. Stark's visit were an informal dinner and an initiation ceremony for six pledges.

Lacking transportation facilities, we held our Founder's Day banquet at the Moor Hotel. Many alumnae came back to be with us on this day.

The next large event scheduled by the Pi Kaps was the informal rush party when we entertained freshman girls at the School Lodge. This party followed a war theme, the grounds taking the form of a mock battlefield, the allies being the victors in the "Battle."

Other occasions to be remembered were Pan-Hellenic-Interfraternity Dance, the Formal Rush Party held in the mezzanine of the auditorium, freshman pledging — with its subsequent pledge duties and activities—and the Annual Mother's Day luncheon.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

A small triangular gold pin, and a little pearl Lambda as a guard—just a sorority pin to most people, but a pin of great significance to the Tri Sigmas who wear it. It is the badge of a sisterhood that identifies one Tri Sigma to another wherever they may be.

Tri Sigma is a social as well as an educational sorority, and nothing gives Lambda chapter more joy than getting the gang together for a good time. Saturday night parties in Miss Sprowl's apartment are great fun—even getting up at 6:00 A. M. for breakfast isn't so bad when you know the crowd will be there as enthusiastic as ever.

Lambda has its serious moments too. Pledging and initiation in the soft glow of candle light, and the moments dedicated to those who have passed on to become members of Omega Chapter. Founder's Day is an important day to all Tri Sigmas, because it reminds each one that if it were not for the little group in Farmville, Virginia, who organized Tri Sigma, many of these friendships and happy occasions would not be. Parting at the end of the year is a sad occasion, too, sometimes. Some of the girls are leaving only to return again in the fall, but others are leaving for good—leaving to enter a new world and prove that their association with Tri Sigma has made them women better equipped to meet the world in both educational and social spheres.

THETA SIGMA UPSILON

The leaves of the oak trees on the campus had not yet turned scarlet when eighteen Theta Sigs arrived at Indiana to start another year packed with fun and work. We felt that since our nation was at war, we should make some worthwhile contribution. At our first meeting we decided to give up one coke a week, put our nickels into a common fund and use the money for war work. We were among the first to volunteer for Red Cross Sewing.

After much cramming from worn pledge manuals, last year's pledges passed their membership tests and were initiated into our sisterhood. In the soft glow of candlelight they were pinned with our badge—a black shield jeweled with pearls and turquoises—identifying them for all time with Theta Sigma Upsilon.

The annual intersorority tea gave us our first opportunity to meet freshman girls and after that event we were deep in the throes of rushing. Long-remembered will be coke dates at the corner, skiing in the deep of winter, long hikes, and parties, especially the "Bowery Brawl" and the "Old Fashioned Party" held just before silence period and pledging.

In early March, members of Pi chapter paused to honor the little group who, in 1911, at Emporia, Kansas, founded the sorority and made possible the good times we know. Throughout the years, the aim of the founders, "The High Good," has helped the group to build and maintain high standards of worth.

Spring found the Thetas joyfully anticipating a vacation, yet saddened by thoughts of parting with sisters who would not return in the fall.

First Row—Stephenson, Hawkins, Laser, Kimball, Lang, M. Grigsby, Langsner.
 Second Row—Martin, Gustafson, Streams, Landis, King, Rifenbary, Lichliter, McDivitt.

Panhellenic Association

The Panhellenic Association, composed of two representatives from each of the six sororities on campus, strives for a closer relationship through coordinating activities common to all groups. This organization also sets up the rules which govern freshmen rushing and pledging. Soon after the opening of school Panhellenic sponsored a coffee hour for freshman girls, giving them an opportunity to become acquainted with all the sorority women, their activities, and their sponsors. Due to war conditions this year, the annual Panhellenic and Interfraternity dances were merged.

Through the Panhellenic Association, all the sororities united in contributing to the Organ Fund and to the Tuberculosis Fund. Feeling the pressing needs of the times, the Association sponsored various types of social service work.

Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council is composed of representatives and sponsors of each fraternity, who meet with Dean Whitmyre to discuss problems brought before the Council. It determines the qualifications for fraternity membership and the time, place, and manner of pledging new members. Regulations concerning rush parties and house residence are established by the Council. The organization also sponsors professional meetings which are held regularly at the different fraternity houses. The three fraternities are required to conform with any decisions made by the Council.

During Thanksgiving vacation in place of the Annual Interfraternity Dance, the Council collaborated with the Panhellenic Association in having a dance for all sorority and fraternity members.

Seated—Davis, Whitmyre, Rowland, Woodring.

Standing—Hague, Norman, Siebert, Peters, Bernunzio, Benson.

Woodring, Bernunzio

In September, Phi Alpha Zeta once again opened its doors to begin the thirty-fifth year of successful fraternalism. Although fewer in number and with war casting a shadow on their lives, the remaining members stressed the purposes of encouraging and developing good fellowship within the chapter and furthering scholastic endeavors.

Historically speaking, Phi Alpha Zeta, originating in 1908 as Delta Phi Sigma, has the distinct privilege of being the oldest fraternity on campus. In 1912 it became Iota Chapter of Phi Alpha, and in 1929 was incorporated as Alpha Chapter of Phi Alpha Zeta.

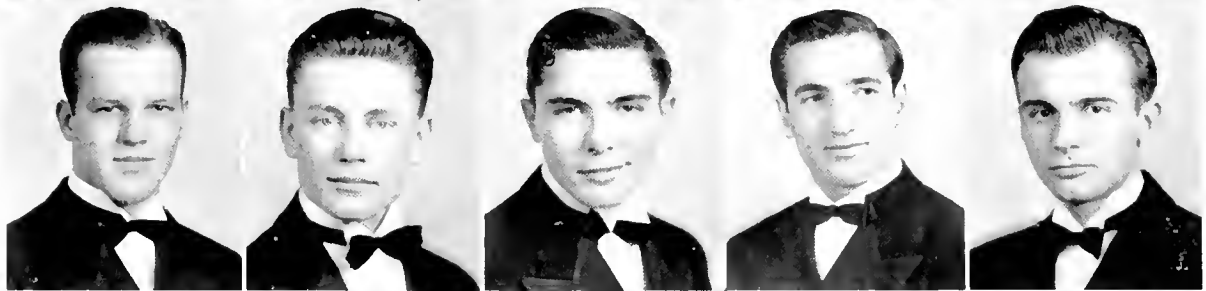

The fraternity's social season began with an open house party held in late October. The guests, faculty and students, were escorted through the house and then were served refreshments. Another high-light of the season was the house party in November which took the form of a Monte Carlo gambling house. The guests, with play-money, bet on various gambling devices. Money literally flowed through the house. Prizes were given to those who had won the most. For those who didn't wish to squander their money, there was dancing and other entertainment. At an appointed hour, the guests were shown to the dining room where refreshments were served.

Shortly after the opening of the second semester, when the Enlisted Reserves were called, most of the brothers left to join the service. The portals of the fraternity house are closed; the spirit of united brotherhood continues to exist even though time and distance have taken us one from the other.

Phi Sigma Pi, a national professional educational fraternity in teacher training institutions, is founded on the ideals of knowledge, training, and fellowship. Eta, the first Eastern chapter, installed at Indiana April 30, 1929, will always be grateful to the distinguished body of professional men at Warrensburg, Mo., who established the national fraternity in 1916. The members of Omega Chi, a local fraternity, became the charter members of Eta, with Dr. Walter P. Percival as sponsor. Eta chapter, the first Indiana fraternity to provide a home for its members, maintained the fourth floor of the Y.M.C.A. as fraternity headquarters until the chapter moved to its present home at 413 College Avenue in the fall of 1933.

This fall, for the first time in many years, Eta chapter had a house party which proved, in spite of the zero weather, one of the most successful ever given.

Alumni Day, primarily a college day, reunited the Phi Sig brothers, giving them a chance to elect new alumni officers for the coming year and to make plans for the annual summer dance. At the Interfraternity dance, Phi Sigs again had the privilege of renewing friendships with their graduate men.

With the calling of the men in the Enlisted Reserve Corps the fraternity ranks were greatly diminished, but those in service have not lost contact with their brothers, and through this new experience have become even more closely united with one another and with fraternity ideals.

Despite the fact that over half of the active membership of Pi Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma departed with the other I. S. T. C. Reserves on February 16 for Camp George Meade, the men of Sigma Tau Gamma are still carrying on the work of the fraternity. Organized in 1930, the Indiana Chapter has always figured largely in campus life. It is a social and scholastic group open to both faculty and students. The Taus are equally good at studying and participating in school life. Awards are given each year to two men of each of the 28 chapters spread over the country. The Scholarship Key is awarded to that member who has the highest scholastic average, the Activities Key to that member who has participated in the most clubs and college organizations. Last year's key-men were Lt. Robert Swanson, Scholarship, and Pvt. L. Paul Beckley, Activities.

Socially, there are four big events of the fraternity year. These are the two house parties, the Interfraternity Ball, and the Freshman Smoker. Last October at the college lodge the Taus sponsored a party the central theme of which was that of "Poultrymen's Paradise" screaming "Come and Bring Your Chick." Wearing easy clothes, the party-goers had a hayride out and back under the starry canopy.

SAGA, the national magazine of Sigma Tau Gamma, is published twice a year. It contains feature articles by Tau writers, news of chapters, national affairs, and pictures. The local Tau chapter contributed largely to the book.

With the closing of school, the brothers of 257 College Avenue look forward to the Senior Day Outing, final group affair of the year. On this occasion when all members, pledges, and alumni are present, the senior man who has been outstanding in the fraternity and on campus is elected Honor Man of the year.

Men and

During the last year we have lost approximately one hundred forty men to the service of their country. Indiana is also represented in various women's organizations. In addition, hundreds of our graduates and former students have left fine teaching positions to join the colors. The first semester, groups from all departments left school gradually; the second semester, a genuine loss was felt when seventy-nine Enlisted Army Reserves left in a body on February 16. Two weeks later a smaller contingent left to begin training for the Army Air Corps; since then the draft has taken a few students regularly each week.

Women in Uniform

Many of those in camp have written of their new duties to friends here at school; parts of these letters have appeared in the PENN from time to time. The College News Letter and issues of the PENN have been sent every two weeks to all whose addresses are available. Although every effort is made by Mr. Boyts and his staff to keep a complete record, the constantly changing location of service men and women inevitably leads to inaccuracies in the list. Many of the boys have written desiring to purchase the 1943 OAK. We hope they'll like it.

In past years many have felt that in the choice of Indiana's beauties there has been partiality shown to certain groups. In order that the selection might be most fair and democratic, the OAK staff set up an open ballot given to the student body at assembly. Each voter had the privilege of naming eight beauties. The votes were accurately counted and those people whose number of votes had been greatest were selected as the students' choice of Indiana's beauties.

Personalities

Glenn Davis

Recognizing the fact that there are on the campus a number of students with outstanding personalities, and realizing that a small group is not authorized to make selections acceptable to all, the OAK staff this year planned to have those selected represent the desires of the majority of students. An all-campus election was arranged, each student being given the opportunity to name the ten persons whom he considered as being the most outstanding. The results of this election were tabulated and the ten people who received the greatest number of votes were chosen to be presented as Indiana's personalities.

Society

The Leonard Literary Society is an outgrowth of two older literary groups, the Huguenian and Erodolphian Societies, whose primary functions were the sponsoring of essays, debates and declamations, and the presentation of visiting professional artists. The new organization was named for Miss Jane Leonard, who promoted its activities and encouraged its development, resulting in the production of many plays with student casts.

This year marked another step in the development of the organization. In order to give townspeople as well as a larger number of students the opportunity to see the performances of the group, it merged with the Student Co-operative Association, making the presentation of an "I" card the only admission requirement.

In anticipation of larger audiences, a new production program was inaugurated. Instead of the usual "one night stands," the two major plays of the season were shown for two nights each, eliminating the necessity of playing to capacity audiences.

Since the transition to the new financial and membership scheme brought many problems, it was decided that they could best be handled by those who were familiar with the old organization, hence the officers for the year 1941-1942 were retained.

Co-opera

Martin Agronsky

Few will forget this year's excellent cultural life program. The splendid performance of the Ballet Russe was enjoyed by the students and the faculty. World events were brought to us in a very real and sincere fashion by Martin Agronsky. Ann Brown's rich and beautiful voice singing a Negro spiritual or a Russian folk tune held the audience spell-bound. Frank Buck, in a thrilling illustrated lecture, showed us how to "Bring 'Em Back Alive." Eve Curie, a very charming and intelligent lady, told of visiting our boys in Africa, and explained the particular position of France in this war. War-time England was pictured for us by Flight Commander Ashley Hall. Lansing Hatfield, the well-known Metropolitan baritone, gave an excellent concert as the concluding number.

Our thanks to the student Co-operative for making possible such an excellent series of performances.

Indiana's Music

Whether it be in a practice room or on the stage in the auditorium, music has a significant place at Indiana. It provides musical experiences and contributes to the cultural life of both college and community. The College Choir and Women's Chorus performed choral arrangements of composers from medieval to modern periods. The members, carefully trained by their director, Miss Muldowney to appreciate pure rich tone are sensitive to the full content and meaning of the music. Christmas at Indiana would not be complete without the oft-repeated but impressive pageant. Former members who have joined the battlefield frequently write saying that they miss the Choir and, although far away, still sing with them their favorite anthems.

Despite many inconveniences caused by war-time events, the College Symphony Orchestra under Mr. Stitt's leadership, and the String Orchestra conducted by Miss Reed, have brought pleasure to their members in both rehearsal and performance. Classics — Purcell, Haydn, and Beethoven, as well as moderns — Taylor and Copeland, were studied. Although these works are technically challenging, and the personnel of the orchestra was greatly reduced by calls to the armed services, the two groups have met successfully.

Everyone enjoyed Bronwen Cooper's playing of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," accompanied by the College Concert Band. That was a highlight of the band's many assembly performances as directed by Dr. Cheyette. American and Latin American composers were featured in this year's repertoire. Many boys now in the service as technical sergeants received much of their band training with the College Marching Band. This organization not only adds pep to our football games, but also shows real Indiana spirit at the patriotic rallies and send-offs of selectees.

Peek-a-boo!

Take it easy, Pezzuti.

Illusive grub.

Sweet and simple.

Hi, Toots!

Substitution please?

Why go to Honolulu?

Surprise!

Isn't this cozy?

SPIRIT OF INDIANA

On! On! On! On to victory,
Everyone expects to see you win today
Fight to win! "Play the game square!"
Always for your Alma Mater do and dare
Now then, go! Give them not a show,
You have skill and daring, that we know.
For not only will you score, but will add a few points more,
Just to show them how we do at Indiana.

Indiana, don't you hear our cheer?
That you'll honor us we have no fear
See your pennant floating o'er the field!
Unto foeman you will never yield.
You will hear us as we shout and sing,
Other teams will know their fate.
When they meet the "Red and Slate,"
It's the way we always do at Indiana.
Victory! Victory! Victory!
Victory! Victory! Victory!
With your faces ever toward the foe,
Pressing forward down the field you go!
Victory! Victory! Victory!
Every man is finding every play,
For 'tis written on your shield,
"Unto foemen never yield"
We will always do our best for Indiana.
